REPORT NO.

25X1X

The idea of establishing a central intelligence organization in the Chinese Nationalist Government¹ originated with members of the inner secret intelligence clique in the President's Office.² Fisher HOU has already completed a detailed plan of organization for this new organ and members of the secret clique will present it to CHIANG Kai-shek when a favorable occasion arises.

25X1X

Comment. If a central intelligence organ is established, the secret clique in the President's Office will possibly be in a position to gain control of all intelligence activities, whereas it now acts only as an intermediary for CHIANG and the various Nationalist intelligence organs.

25X1A

1. See [REDACTED]
2. [REDACTED] Comment. The idea probably originated with CHIANG Ching-kuo.
